

EDIX® Merino wool westernpad Burgundy

EDIX uni 8-pocket Merino sheepskin Western pad

A premium quality finished anatomically shaped universal Western pad made with an original Merino lambskin, with 2 large and 6 small pockets including felt inserts. The wool is anti-bacterial, therapeutic, regulates heat and moisture, improves pressure distribution and prevents abrasion.

The pad is made from quilted cotton, with a full underside of high-quality genuine Merino® fur skin. On both sides of the spine there are 2 large and 3 small pockets on the top for inserts, all with felt inserts. Of course, a different type of insert can be chosen as required. Equipped with 6 top insert compartments to improve a balanced position of the saddle or for additional pressure distribution.

Where the rider's leg rubs while riding, a nylon reinforcement is provided to prevent wear.

High-quality Merino wool is technically probably still one of the most advanced materials in the world. Because the complete fur lambskin is used instead of shaved and woven wool, the benefits of this natural material are optimally exploited. That is why we recommend that you use it directly on the horse's back.

All EDIX Merino pads are fitted with a new design free spinal canal of short shaved fur, developed in a way to reduce pressure points and to provide optimal protection for your horse's spine. Furthermore, the Merino fur skin has a large surface so that the panels of the saddle rest completely on it. As a result, the natural fibres effectively distribute the perspiration to the outside, while at the same time pressure is distributed and shocks are absorbed.

For maintenance and washing instructions of the EDIX Merino fur skin mats, please refer to the EDIX fur information brochure on the website.

The EDIX Merino western pad is suitable for several brands of treeless as well as traditional tree saddles.
